MOTOR BUS LINE DOWN PENINSULA

COUNTY DEVELOPMENT ASSOCIATION WILL INVESTIGATE LINE OUT OF TACOMA.

Association Will Pay $10 For Name That Will Best Describe County's Attractions.

M. B. Johnson and H. C. Tuchsen have been named as a special committee by the San Mateo County Development Association to proceed to Tacoma, Washington, for the purpose of investigating a motor bus car line, which is now in operation from that city to Puyallup, a suburb, the object being to report whether such an enterprise could be successfully maintained from San Francisco to peninsula points, in opposition to the present electric service.

Johnson is the president of the San Mateo County Development Association and a member of the Advisory Road Commission, which is assisting the board of supervisors in handling the $1,250,000 bond issue for good roads. Tuchsen is the former president of the association. Should these men report favorably on the project, the association will support a movement now under way which means the immediate establishment of a motor bus system, to be operated at a speedy headway at a low fare, so that the service will compete with the trolly line down the peninsula.

The advantages of the proposed motor bus system are many. One of the principal merits is the fact that there is a seat for every passenger. There is also an element of luxury and comfort in these motor vehicles, which do not exist in street cars of the trolly type.

The board of governors of the San Mateo County Development Association has offered a prize of $10 for the best coined phrase or name which will adequately describe the cimate, scenic beauties and good roads of San Mateo county. All answers should be addressed to Secretary Frank L. Eksward, San Mateo County Development Association, San Mateo, and must be in the hands of the secretary not later than October 1st, on which date a committee of judges will canvass all answers and make the award accordingly.

So that the contestant may be thoroughly acquainted with just what the association desires in the way of a title for the contest, it should be explained that the name coined should be along the lines of that adopted by Sacramento county, which uses the catch words of "Superior California," or the City of San Mateo, which is appropriately called the "Floral City."

The object is to obtain for San Mateo county, a title distinctive in character. A name so cleverly and artistically formed that it will bring to the mind's eye a picture of our beautiful community. This name should be one that will thoroughly fit in with the surroundings of our nature favored locality. The title should be so named that it will live forever, in other words it should "stick."

The successful contestant will have the satisfaction of knowing that aside from the cash prize, he or she has given San Mateo county a name that will be extensively advertised throughout the land, and that this child of his brain will become a household name.

Should the contestant desire he can probably aid the name which he suggests for adoption by stating the reasons why he deems his choice the best.

GREAT EVENT AT SAN MATEO SEPTEMBER 9.

An event of more than usual interest to the Catholic laity of the county will take place at San Mateo September 9th, at which time the cornerstone of the Catholic County Club will be laid. Plans for this $50,000 structure are now with the contractors and ground for the building will be broken early this week.

A carnival under the direction of the ladies from the various county parishes, will begin September 7th and end with a grand ball on the evening of September 9th. Mrs. J. N. Winter of this city will supervise the ice-cream concession at the carnival, assisted by Mrs. Joe Nash, Mrs. J. J. Shields, Mrs. D. E. Graham, Mrs. Joe Dickey, Mrs. Jas. Coleman, Mrs. Jos. McAuliffe, Mrs. Dan Flynn, Mrs. J. J. Hahir and a corps of other pretty Redwood girls.

That September 9th will be a gala day for San Mateo is conceded from the fact that at least 1000 people are coming from San Jose alone. Other large delegations from San Francisco, Oakland, Alameda, San Rafael and Petaluma, have completed arrangements to attend the ceremonies.

His Grace Archbishop Riordan, Hon. Jos. Scott of Los Angeles, Neil Power and Eugene F. Conlin of San Francisco and other notables will be among the spectators.

Miss Mary Stewart, formerly of this city and now principal of one of the Santa Rosa grammar schools, was the guest of Mrs. Geo. H. Rice last week.

SERVICES FOR LATE POPE IN THIS DIOCESE.

Saturday has been set for the day on which the funeral services for the late Pope Pius will be held in all the Catholic churches of this diocese.

The Most Rev. Archbishop of San Francisco, Patrick W. Riordan, issued official notice Wednesday directing that a solemn requiem mass be celebrated in all the churches of the diocese on Saturday at 9 o'clock and in each church, besides the music appropriate to the occasion, there will be a sermon on the life of the late pontiff.

The great official function of the day will be held at St. Mary's Cathedral in San Francisco, at 9 o'clock. Archbishop Riordan will pontificate at the high mass and the sermon will be preached by the Rev. Charles A. Ramm, administrator of St. Mary's Cathedral.

Death Holds Up Stagedriver.

Charles McFadden, a pioneer resident, who drove stage on the San Mateo and Halfmoon Bay line for many years, passed away at the San Mateo county farm recently, aged 77 years. "Mac" was an expert mountain stage driver, and wa known to all old residents of the county. It was rough traveling to Halfmoon Bay in early days, and at certain places on the road it was the custom for the passengers to get out and help push the stage up the steep grade; but those who remember the condition of the road and the perilous precipices, will also remember that long before the request came from McFadden to get out and give a little shove, the passengers had already taken the initiative. Mac was a careful man and had few accidents—man and horses seemingly to understand eachother in their wild ride over the mountains.

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER

D. E. O'KEEFE, Editor and Proprietor

For Governor,
JOHN D. FREDERICKS.

As we go to press the Senatorship is still in doubt. Knowland has the lead over Shortridge and indications are that the former will win.

District Attorney Franklin Swart certainly has reason to be proud of the endorsement given by the people of his conduct of that office. With a strong opponent, he was given a handsome majority.

Evidently the people of San Mateo county are well satisfied with the methods of assessment of property at present in vogue. The substantial majority given Assessor Hayward is an endorsement of which any official may well be proud.

While the contest against Judge Buck was a bitter one in some quarters, the decided majority given him was not unexpected by those familiar with his splendid record both as a public official and a private citizen. That he is possessed of every qualification required by his exalted position has been amply demonstrated.

That the people approve of the introduction of modern business methods in the transaction of county business was proven in the splendid majorities given both County Recorder Heiner and Tax Collector McSweeney. Each of them has proven by the conduct of his office that he is the right man in the right place.

That it is useless to attempt to shake the faith of the people of San Mateo county in the personal responsibility and official integrity of County Treasurer Chamberlain has again been well demonstrated. The people of the county want a man of unquestioned financial responsibility in charge of their pulbic funds.

Without desiring in the least to question the ability of his opponent in the race, we congratulate the people of the county on their decision to retain County Surveyor Neuman in office for another term. It was he who laid out our splendid system of highway construction and inaugurated the splendid business system under which it is being constructed and he certainly is the man to carry the work to completion.

With three candidates in the field for the office of sheriff, it was hardly expected that a final choice would be made, although many of Michael Sheehan's friends predicted that he would receive a majority of all the votes cast. While this did not occur, the splendid plurality which he received in the face of a hot contest, is a splendid testimonial of his personal popularity and splendid official record. With Chatham out of the race, there is no question but that the great majority of the votes cast for him will be given to Sheehan in November and that he will be elected finally by a big majority. Mr. Shehan possesses in a marked degree every qualification for the office of Sheriff, and with the advantage of his past official experience, will makean ideal officer.

BUT FEW SURPRISES.

The preliminary struggle for the coming general election has come and gone. The first agonies of the state political contest are over, and while some few surprises have been provided the results generally are about what was expected by the close student of the political situation, both as concerns local affairs and state politics. That the law contains many weak, and in cases vicious, points, has been amply demonstrated. With a return to the sane control of the Republican party, which now seems assured, these, however, will undoubtedly be eliminated at the next session of the legislature, which will be called upon to remedy numerous mistakes—if a more harsh term would not be appropriate—of the present administration.

That Captain John D. Fredericks should have been named as the leader of the Republican party by a large majority of the adherents of that organization was to have been expected He was unquestionably the logical man for the place. While his opponents in the race are men of unquestioned ability and integrity, they are not equipped so strongly with those qualities of personal leadership which are essential at this time to assure united action of all elements of the party. With Captain Fredericks as its leader there can be practically no question of the success of the Republican party in the final struggle next November.

So far as the county contests are concerned the results are generally what might have been expected. That many of the present county officials have been assured of a continuance in office by the results of the primary election, is a result which they well deserved. They have been tried and not found wanting.

Mrs. Tovis of Lomita Park has been quite ill at her home but is now almost entirely recovered.

Mrs. Arndt has grieved incessantly over the loss of her little daughter a few months ago and finally gave way completely under the strain. Halfmoon Bay cannot be beat when it comes to flowers. Some of the roses, dahlias, etc., that are raised here are beatuies. Now Mrs. Schubert has a rosebush that is worth going some distance to see. On a single stem, which is not thicker than a man's finger, there are 52 full-blown roses and a number of buds. If there's anyone who doubts, call on the lady and she will prove it.—Halfmoon Bay Review.

ROWLEY'S BOOK OF REMINISCENCES

PROSE AND POETRY SELECTIONS BY WELL-KNOWN FORMER COUNTY RESIDENT.

Tribute to Old Friends Who are Reminded of Events that Occurred Long, Long Ago.

R. G. Rowley, well known to older people of this city and vicinity as a lawyer, journalist and farmer, but for many years living in Cortland, New York, has recalled pleasant recollections of days gone by through the publication of a book, copies of which have been circulated among his acquaintances. The book which is elegantly printed and bound is for free distribution.

In his introductory Mr. Rowley says: "To my friends, the few, still in the flesh living; to the memory of the many more, nearer and dearer ones, who have passed on and out, and 'over the Great Divide,' leaving me here to follow on, alone as best I may, in the 'Trail of the Lonsome Pine,' this small tribute of loyalty and respect is dutifully inscribed."

Mr. Rowley was an old county resident and spent many years on his farm in the Alpine. He came into prominence as owner of a county paper in 1879, the San Mateo County Journal, in which publication he made war on what was then called the "Ring."

Regarding this feature of his public life Mr. Rowley says:

"The writer at that time was engaged in a very strenuous contest in San Mateo county, California, chiefly with the Spring Valley Water Company, a corporation supplying San Francisco with water from said county, and which by reason of its great wealth and arrogant power had dominated the policies and politics of that county for years, to its great detriment. The good people of the county finally arose in revolt and the writer, a citizen thereof for years, was 'in it.' He established a newspaper, 'The San Mateo County Journal,' to espouse the cause of reform, became the leader of the cause, and was warmly supported by the majority of the people of the county, so that after a struggle of two years the government of the county was redeemed, the Author made District Attorney, and all the important offices in the county filled by the reform candidates.

"In the meantime, an able and most strenuous editor for the 'other paper' had been imported from the east, for the express purpose of running 'Rowley' out of the county by his strenuous efforts, and he, having been a war correspondent for the New York Herald, was supposed to be especially adapted for the purpose, having been on the 'firing line' for years. But it couldn't be done. The fur flew thick and fast, as only western Editors can make it fly; but 'Rowley's mud hook' had too firm a grip on the county and with his now important office to back him up, the fight was soon won; the county was made over. It was after swords had been crossed for some time and definite results known, that the Ring Editor threw up his arms in despair, and exclaimed, 'It's of no use, no use. You can't down Rowley with a pen, it will take a bullet.'

"It was about this time that Fremont Older, then quite a young man, became connected with the Journal office. He has since risen so high in California journalism, as a reformer, that it is with diffidence we mention his name here. Still, we think, he can but hold kindly remembrance of the first lessons he took in the Reformation of a County, from the columns of the Journal. Mr. Older has certainly proven a worthy son of its succeeding. His reputation is more than state-wide; it is national; and we recall with pride the fact that he was wont to closely study the 'copy' of the 'leaders' sent in by his chief, since he was the only one in the office who could read it. Yes, he has beaten his old chief out, on his own lines, hands down. This is the result of persistency coupled with ability. Oh, Persistency, thou art a jewel, shine on, Ability; without Persistency, you cannot make good; having no lustre of your own you cannot shine."

The book contains many pretty poems and prose articles written by the author when he was a young man. There are also extracts from his editorials and articles, written while the battle against the so-called ring was being waged, and frequently are mentioned the names of men who were then prominent in county affairs. Altogether it is a valuable book, and highly appreciated by those who were so kindly remembered by Mr. Rowley.

Lumber Truck Collides With and Crushes Small Machine.

SAN GREGORIO, Aug. 26—Holly Bush, the bicycle doctor, Leon Thorsen, the popular orchestra leader, and Chas. Noyes, all of San Mateo, had an experience one day last week which will ever remind them of their nearest approach to Death's door, if fact they were so close to it that their nerves have not yet resumed their normal function. Returning from a camping trip to the Butano, they were rounding a turn on the coast road between Lobitos and San Gregorio, where the Pomponia thoroughfare intersects and were at a sharp curve in the eucalyptus grove when they heard an auto lumber truck descending at a rapid pace. They were in Mr. Bush's small machine and realizing their danger, ran it as close into the bank as possible and stopping, Leon Thorsen in the meantime blowing the horn as vigorously as possible. The driver of the truck paid no heed to the warning and bore down on the helpless trio, although all of them yelled lustily.

The massive truck crashed into the helpless little auto, tearing away one of the front wheis and badly damaging it otherwise. No one was hurt, but it was a miraculous escape

The driver of the truck did not stop until Leon grabbed a spoke of the broken machine and ran after him. For a few moments Leon wished that the spoke was a gun instead.

Merchant Williamson of Pescadero arrived on the scene shortly after and informed the party that he had narrowly escaped having his auto smashed to splinters by the same individual, showing his utter disregard of Mr. Williamson's approach.

HAPPY LA HONDA

Merry San Jose Party Spends Two Weeks In Quest of Game

LA HONDA August 26—After a two weeks' camping, hunting and fishing trip, a jolly party reached La Honda this week. The merry ones were S. D. Zaro of Zaro's Grill, F. N. Arnevich of the Oyster Loaf, M. Buevich, proprietor of the Columbia rooming house, A. P. Lepesh, the grocer, G. Rakela and J. Petrinovich, all of San Jose, which place they left on August 7. Theirs was a most pleasant outing, winding up at La Honda. Fish and game in plenty attest their prowess as sportsmen.

Miss Emma Blanke, who has made Visalia her home for the past two years, has been at the Hotel Woodruff for two months. Her friends will be glad to learn that the young lady is much improved in health and certainly enjoys beautiful La Honda.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Hillebrand of Redwood City are the guests of Mrs. Frank Cavalli.

Mrs. Jane Dawson from San Francisco is the guest of Mrs. A. M. Blade at Copthorn ranch, near Bellvale.

Miss A. C. Gregg of Lockford, Cal., is paying a visit to Mrs. Lizzie Logan, to remain until Mrs. Logan goes to Mayfield about the first of September.

George Boone, our roadmaster, reports much satisfactory progress on our new road from Redwood. We hope to have this boulevard completed during exposition year.

COUNTY POSTMASTERS TAKE EXAMINATIONS.

Under the direction of Horace W. Amphlett, local secretary of the U. S. Civil Service Board, examinations for fourth class postmasters in San Mateo county were held at the San Mateo Union highschool building Saturday morning.

The only competition was for the office at Belmont, two persons taking the examination. Only one person was examined for each of the post offices at Colma, Easton, San Bruno and Millbrae. Nobody appeared to take the examination for the postoffice at Pescadero.

The examination lasted from 9 o'clock to 12:30 p. m.

SOCIALISTS SEEK TO CONFISCATE LAND

Party's State Secretary Reveals Purposes of Universal 8-Hour Bill

Confiscation of all lands is the purpose of the Socialist party in proposing the Universal Eight-Hour Bill, which will be No. 3 on the ballot in November. This drastic attitude is revealed by Thomas W. Williams, Secretary of the Socialist Party in California, who writes in the party's official organ, the Los Angeles Citizen, July 31, this year:

"We cheerfully admit that a Universal Eight-Hour Law will, to an extent, increase the cost of living. The Socialist Party, in putting forth the bill, did not claim that it would solve the economic problem. On the contrary, we most emphatically assert that so long as profits remain staple no single piece of legislation can bring to the workers any advantage, without at the same time revealing the incompleteness of any program which does not strike at the roots of capitalism—profits. But we say, 'Better that the cost of living should go up than the standard of living should go down.'

"I want to break this information gently, Mr. Ranchman, that your ownership of the land is only temporary anyway. We are not agitating an Eight-Hour Day because of its effect on your profits. We propose the abolition of all your profits. The sooner you learn this the better."

Attitude of Labor.

Contrast that declaration with the conservative view taken by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who testified before the United States Commission on Industrial Relations as follows:

"The American Federation of Labor is in favor of fixing the maximum number of hours of work for children, minors, and women. It does not favor a legal limitation of the workday for adult men workers.

"The unions have very largely established the shorter workday by their own initiative, power and influence; they have done it for themselves.

"The American Federation of Labor is opposed to limiting, by legal statutory authority, the hours of work for men in private industries.

"The American Federation of Labor has apprehensions as to the wisdom of placing in the hands of the government additional powers which may be used to the detriment of the working people. It particularly opposes this policy when the things can be done by the workmen themselves.

"It is in favor of a uniform shorter workday and would encourage and help affiliated organizations to secure it by collective bargaining and other methods employed by labor unions."

Measure Is Confiscatory.

The Farmers' Protective League has maintained from the inception of its fight to defeat the Universal Eight-Hour Bill that the measure was not in the interests of the workingman, but in reality is confiscatory in its intent. Secretary Williams admits that this view is correct and that the whole scheme is to make farming so unprofitable that farmers will forfeit their holdings.

If the Universal Eight-Hour Bill is permitted to be adopted thousands of farmers will have to surrender their homes.

Other Interests Affected.

Agriculture is not the only industry that would be affected if the Universal Eight-Hour Bill were adopted. There is not a single branch of business that would be exempted from the drastic provisions of the measure. All men who work for wages will be denied the right to work overtime for pay, thereby cutting down an important item in the monthly income of all men employed in factories and foundries, shops and stores. Railroad men would suffer because they are paid by mileage covered, and time is an element in fixing the distance traveled. Trains en route between stations would be effectually "blocked" by a legal semaphore. The lumber industry would be paralyzed absolutely, for it would be impossible for California lumbermen to compete with those doing business in a state which has no eight-hour law, and so it is with all manufactories.

Higher Cost of Living.

Since the law would add 20 per cent to the cost of producing foodstuffs naturally there would be an increase in the cost of living, already high. The increased cost would not and could not be fixed by the farmer, who does not now control prices, but the inevitable law of supply, which is ignored in this measure, would operate to add to the cost of the necessities of life.

The public is invited to attend the musical and literary evening to be given by the Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational church on the evening of September 4th. Refreshments will be served.
